Executive Vice President Of Hiller Trading Named

Tampa, FL, May 16, 2008: Dale Anderson has just been named as the new Executive Vice President of Hiller Trading, a subsidiary of The Hiller Group.

Dale's most recent position was with Chevron Global Supply & Trading as their Upstream Commercial Advisor – West Africa managing all aspects of Chevron's crude oil Fiscal Reference Price (FRP) reporting process for the significant oil producing countries in West Africa, including Angola, Nigeria, Republic of Congo and Chad. Regular face to face meetings with senior government officials to review Chevron's cargo sales, involving presentations, direct negotiations with the various Ministries and strategic relationship building were part of his daily routine.

"He provides us immediately executive "bench strength" with a strong knowledge of aviation along with international commodity expertise," states Marty Hiller. Anderson's primary focus will be to build structure around Hiller's commodity sales and trading activities. Dale is slated to start mid-June.

Hiller Trading, a division of The Hiller Group, specializes in the international movement of goods and services. Products include everything from recycled paper and plastics to Ferro Alloys, crude oil and chemicals, which are traded worldwide. The international operation buys and sells products from South America to Europe and Asia to South Africa and focuses on providing the most cost-effective trades combined with excellent service.
